In the case of events where tickets/subscriptions are valid for specific auditorium seats, the auditorium is displayed again by clicking on the "ticket purchase"/"subscription purchase" (jegyvásárlás/bérletvásárlás) icon at the top of the Concerto website, following the selection of the event.

Tickets are available to seats marked in green. The tickets/subscription marked on the floor plan of the auditorium and placed in your cart can be cancelled with another click. If you no longer wish to place additional tickets/subscriptions in your cart, click on the "To the Cart" (Kosárhoz) button below the auditorium view. No matter which part of the website you are browsing, by clicking on the cart icon in the top right corner, you can view tickets/subscriptions you have placed in the cart already.

3.2.2. Ticket/subscription purchased based on a first-come, first-served basis

If the auditorium seats are not numbered, and you can take your seat on a first-come, first-served basis, with your ticket/subscription for the event, you can place tickets in the cart by entering the desired number of tickets. The number of tickets that can be placed in the basket can be capped at a variable rate per venue or event.

3.3. Discounts

Concerto is entitled to offer discounts from the ticket/subscription prices. You can enter the discount in the discount window on the "cart" (kosár) interface, after which the system automatically modifies the price of the ticket/subscription. In all cases, make sure already before you pay that you purchase the tickets/subscriptions at the right price because there is no possibility to receive a refund of the price or to apply discounts after purchase.

3.4. Use of the cart

In the cart, you can see the tickets/subscription you have selected. You can see the title of the selected event, its venue, its date and time and the selected seat (or chosen sector, if applicable). Please, note that your E-Ticket is valid in itself valid and entitles you to admission.
Under no circumstances should you allow an unauthorised person to make a copy of your e-ticket. Any additional E-Ticket with the same barcode is considered as a copy, i.e. an invalid ticket/subscription.

3.5.3. Receipt of tickets/subscriptions

You may, at your choice, make the following implied liability claims:

You may ask for repair or replacement unless it is impossible to meet any of these claims or would imply further expenses disproportionate to Concerto’s other claims. If you have not asked for repair or replacement, you can claim a proportionate delivery of the remuneration or you can correct the error at the expense of the Company, or you can have it repaired or, as last resource, you can withdraw from the contract. You may also switch from your choice of implied liability to another, but the cost of the transfer will be charged on you unless it is justified or the Company is in charge of causing it.

What is the deadline for you to validate your claims for implied liability?

You must send a notification of the error immediately after it has been discovered, but no later than two months after the error has been discovered. At the same time, we would like to point out that, beyond the limitation period of two years from the date of performance of the contract, you are no longer entitled to exercise your right of implied liability.

Against whom can you enforce your claims for implied liability against?

You can enforce your claim of implied liability against Concerto.

What are the other conditions for your enforcing your rights to implied liability?

Within six months of delivery, there are no other conditions for enforcing your claim for implied liability other than the notification of the failure if you verify that the product or service was provided by Concerto. However, after six months from the date of delivery, you are obliged to prove that the defect you have detected was already present at the time of delivery.
2. Product liability

In what case can you exercise your right to product liability?

In the event of a defect in a movable property (product), you may, at your choice, enforce an implied or product liability claim.

What rights do you have based on your claim for product liability?

As a product liability claim, you may only request the repair or replacement of the defective product.

In what case is the product considered defective?

The product is defective if it does not meet the quality requirements in force when it is placed on the market or if it does not have the characteristics described by the manufacturer.

What is the deadline for you to validate your claims for product liability?

You can claim product liability within two years of the manufacturer placing the product on the market. After that period, you shall lose your entitlement.

To whom and under what other conditions can you claim product liability?

You may only exercise your product liability claim against the manufacturer or distributor of the movable item. You must prove that the product is defective in case of a product liability claim.

In what cases is the manufacturer (distributor) exempted from product liability?

The manufacturer (distributor) shall be exempted from product liability only if he can prove that:

- the product was not manufactured or placed on the market in the course of a non-business activity, or

- the error was not recognisable at the time of placing the product on the market according to the current state of science and technology, or

- the defect in the product is due to the application of a law or a mandatory regulatory requirement.
The manufacturer (distributor) needs to have only one reason to be exempted.

Please note that due to the same error, you cannot claim product liability and implied liability simultaneously and at the same time. In the event of the effective enforcement of your product liability claim, however, you can enforce your claim for implied liability against the manufacturer with regards to the replaced product or repaired part.
